

Disclaimer

Last updated: June 18, 2025

Welcome to IslamicScienceHub.in. This Disclaimer outlines the limitations and responsibilities regarding the use of our website and the content we publish.

1. Educational Purpose Only

All content on this website is intended for general educational and informational purposes. We aim to explore and highlight the harmony between science and Islamic teachings as found in the Quran and Hadith. It should not be taken as professional, religious, or scientific advice.

2. Not Medical or Scientific Authority

While we discuss scientific topics in light of Islamic texts, we do not represent a certified scientific, medical, or religious institution. Always consult with qualified professionals or scholars before making decisions based on the information found on this website.

3. Religious Sensitivity

We deeply respect the diversity within the Muslim Ummah. Interpretations of Quranic verses or Hadith presented on this site reflect a sincere, research-based effort but may differ from other scholarly views. We encourage respectful dialogue and do not intend to impose any specific interpretation.

4. No Liability

IslamicScienceHub.in and its authors are not liable for any losses, damages, or misunderstandings resulting from the use of our content. Users assume full responsibility for how they interpret or apply the information presented.

5. External Links

We may link to external sources for further learning. However, we are not responsible for the content, views, or privacy practices of these third-party websites.

6. Comment Policy

User comments and feedback must remain respectful and relevant. We reserve the right to remove content that is abusive, off-topic, or misleading without prior notice.

7. Content Updates

We reserve the right to update or modify the content of this website at any time, including this disclaimer, to reflect new research or feedback from our readers and community.
